

Fresh!

An introduction to fresh expressions of church:
what they are and how they thrive.

York

12th-16th July 2010

Fresh!

An introduction to fresh expressions of church: what they are and how they thrive.

- In-depth study of the book of Acts - the first 'fresh expression' of church!
- A national overview of fresh and inherited forms of church today.
- Engagement with a broad swathe of new forms of church - from a church in a gym to 'Transcendence Mass' in York Minster - involving many different Christian denominations.
- Thinking through how you might start a fresh expression or plant a new church in your own context.
- A tour of the beautiful city of York, a Fresh party and times of worship and prayer to punctuate the week.

Who is it for?

- People trained for or involved in church leadership in any Christian church.

Date

- 12th-16th July 2010

Venue

- St Martin's, Coney Street, York and various locations around York

Cost

- £100

Tutors

- David Goodhew
Director of Ministerial Practice, Cranmer Hall, Durham
- Andrew Roberts
Director of Training, Fresh Expressions

Individual session tutors include:

- Roger Simpson
Vicar of St Michael-le-Belfrey, York
- Graham Hutchinson
Elim, York
- Sue Wallace
Visions, York
- Glyn Webster
York Minster
- Michael Volland
Director of Mission and Pioneer Ministry, Cranmer Hall, Durham
- Matthew Brailsford
Hull Deanery Fresh Expressions Advisor and Vicar of North Ferriby
- Sam Foster
Scarborough Deanery Fresh Expressions Minister

How do I apply?

Contact:

Theresa Phillips

Cranmer Hall
St John's College
Durham
DH1 3RJ

0191 334 3888

theresa.phillips@durham.ac.uk

cranmerhall.com

Fresh expressions of Church: York is organised by Cranmer Hall, Durham, an Anglican Theology College, in partnership with Fresh Expressions and York School of Theology.